

Little Lost Robot CIC

What We Do

Little Lost Robot CIC (Community Interest Company) is a not-for-profit collective of artists working with social practice. We offer a programme of creative, community adult learning opportunities.

We work in an unpressured way that nurtures individuals to determine their own creative outcomes, with guidance from our team of professional artists and producers.

Some of our sessions are accompanied by creative child supervision for preschool aged children. This is to support parents and carers of young children out of isolation and into creative communities.

If you have any questions about our programme please contact us directly.
